

Seen are the various stakeholders at the event together with officers from the Naval Station Durban.

National Water Week commemorated

The Naval Station Durban recently hosted an event in commemoration of National Water Week in keeping with the theme, 'Water is Life.' Various stakeholders from Coastal Storm Water Management, Department of Water Affairs and Forestry, eThekweni Water and Sanitation and Umgeni Water, addressed issues regarding the use, safety and preservation of water. Warrant Officer, Joseph Govender said, "We host events of this nature annually to raise an awareness about the importance of water and water safety. We have five departments in this unit, all of which participated in a project to create banners to highlight the importance of water as well as ways in which we can preserve water." The winners were the Material Department and the Executive Department were the runners up.

